CANDIDATES FOR ADMISSION INTO COLLEGE are examined by the Faculty and placed in the class which they are prepared to join. To enter the Freshman, or any higher class, the candidate must stand an examination on all the studies previously pursued by the class.

THE PREPARATORY DEPARTMENT offers the advantages of a good Classical and Mathematical School. In it, students are prepared to enter the Freshman class. Students wishing to pursue a particular branch of study, are permitted to enter this department, or any class in College for which they are found prepared, subject, however, to the direction of the Faculty in the amount of study required.

RELIGIOUS EXERCISES.—Students are required to attend prayers in the chapel, Bible class on the Sabbath, and church in such places as their parents shall request, or without such request, in the place appointed by the Faculty.

EXPENSES.—The tuition fees in College are $40 a year, or $4 a month. Room rent, servants' hire and contingent expenses, $9 a year. Deposit, which is returned if no damage is done, $5 a year. Board $8 per month in the Steward's Hall. Washing $1 per month. Wood $2 per cord. College fees must be paid invariably in advance. Students who enter on the scholarships recently established, pay no tuition fees, but are liable for all other charges.

COMMENCEMENT occurs annually on Thursday after the second Tuesday of June. The collegiate year, nine weeks after the annual commencement. There is a recess of ten days at Christmas. Students are expected to enter punctually on the first day of the session, as failure to do so is attended with great disadvantage and loss. Every candidate for admission will be expected to present testimonials as to his moral character and standing in the institution which he last attended.

HAMPDEN SIDNEY COLLEGE, (the Literary Department,) is situated in Prince Edward county, two miles from the courthouse, and seven miles from the town of Farmville, both of which places are connected by lines of stages with Richmond, Petersburg and Lynchburg, Va., and Milton, N. C., so that the College is easily accessible from every quarter. The locality is proverbially one of the most healthy in Virginia. The College is surrounded by a community distinguished for intelligence, morality and piety, in the families of which students may enjoy all the social advantages consistent with a life of study, as every youth's life should be, while he is at College. Its quiet locality in the country, removed from the bustle of life, and from temptations to idleness and vice, incident to a town or city neighbourhood, associated with the above named advantages, renders this College one of the most desirable retreats to every student who aims to secure the thorough culture of his mind and heart, and the formation of correct habits.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.

The Medical Department of Hampden Sidney College, located at Richmond, went into operation in 1838. The Twelfth Annual Session has just been auspiciously completed. The Trustees take pleasure in presenting the institution to the public as one of the established seats of medical science. In general facilities for the acquisition of medical learning, equal to any other school in the United States, it offers advantages peculiar to its location, which commend it to the patronage of southern students. The study of Practical Anatomy may be prosecuted under the most favourable circumstances. The Infirmary, connected with the College, affords opportunities of observing the diseases of a southern climate at the bedside of the patient, and witnessing the treatment pursued by southern physicians—opportunities which, duly improved, cannot fail to be of signal service to the practitioner in the commencement of his professional career. Richmond occupies the middle ground between the northern and southern Atlantic cities. Its winter climate is mild and healthful, and its society enlightened, refined and hospitable—circumstances which invite the student to its selection as a place for prosecuting his medical studies.

The THIRTEENTH ANNUAL COURSE OF MEDICAL LECTURES will commence on Monday, the 14th day of October 1850, and continue until the first of the ensuing March. The commencement for conferring degrees will be held about the middle of March. A general Introductory lecture will be delivered on the first day of the session, and the regular lectures will commence on the following day. It is desirable, therefore, that the students should assemble promptly at the opening of the session.

LECTURES.

The Professor of Chemistry will lecture four times a week during the session; the Professor of Obstetrics five times; and the other Professors daily. Clinical Lectures will be delivered on Wednesdays and Saturdays at the Infirmary, and on Saturdays at the Richmond Alms-House.

TEXT BOOKS.

Anatomy—Wilson's or Quain and Sharpey's Anatomy.
 Physiology—Kirkes' and Paget's Physiology.
 Surgery—Gibson's Surgery.
 Chemistry—Fowne's Chemistry.
 Materia Medica—Pereira's Materia Medica.
 Obstetrics—Velpeau's Midwifery.

HONOURS OF THE INSTITUTION.

The degree of Doctor of Medicine is conferred upon those gentlemen who, after attending two full courses of lectures (the last of which must be in this institution,) and complying with the other requisitions customary in Medical Schools, have by a thorough examination proved themselves worthy of the Doctorate.

For the purpose of exciting emulation among the students of this institution, and as an incentive to the assiduous prosecution of their studies, the Faculty offer annually a Gold Medal for the best essay upon a medical subject, selected by them and announced at the beginning of each Course of Lectures—to be contended for by the candidates for graduation, and awarded to the successful competitor after the conferring of degrees on commencement day.
